

CULLEN SIDE CHAIR

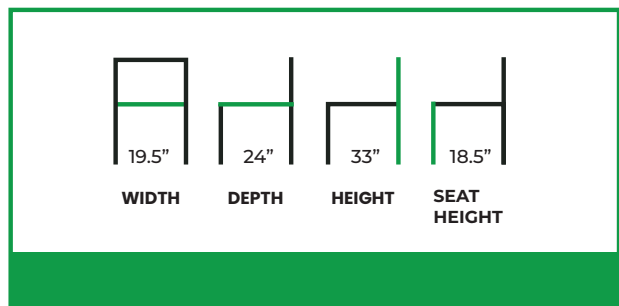

COLLECTION: Signature

SC-888SC

The Cullen Side Chair is defined by a sculpted back-and-arm structure that balances support with an open, lightweight profile. The gently curved backrest is shaped to follow the upper back, while the short, integrated arms act as both a comfort feature and a structural brace—linking the back into the front posts to improve rigidity when the chair is pulled, shifted, or leaned into. The open side cutouts keep entry easy and allow the sitter to turn naturally at the table.

A padded seat sits within a clean four-leg frame, with the front legs reading as a continuation of the arm supports for a cohesive, load-bearing silhouette. The slightly tapered legs help keep the footprint compact while maintaining stability, and the reinforced joints at the arms and seat corners are designed to resist wobble and racking over time.
